THE UNIQUE DESIGN EXPERIENCE

What if you could have a business identity that exposed your essence, felt like art & placed you in the high end business arena?

The Essence Unveiled Experience is more than branding, it's a catalyst for your reinvention

An unveiling of all you desire to be, all you truly are.

A deep dive into your mystery, awakening your slumbering creatrix and bringing her fully to life.

Revealing and capturing her naked glory, transmuting her energy into your world, your life, your business.

And you become her. Reborn in her light.

Your world responding to your reinvention.

Re-aligned in your light.

The fabric of your reality weaving around her, a perfect fit.

Your people responding to your re-novation.

Magnetized by your essence.

The Essence Unveiled Experience is a design experience like no other - working with essence artist Lynda Mangoro to birth the next level of your self and capture it in a business identity design that will support you as you soar into the high end business arena.

Your business is your art, your expression in the world, your gift.

When your visual identity - and everything you create or share - becomes a true reflection of your exquisite essence, your clients connect with you on another level altogether and your business transforms. Your whole life transforms.

Your design elements, your graphics, your marketing literature, your website are a natural expression of you, all birthed as a part of this unveiling process process, designing with potent energy directly from source.

THE UNVEILING PHASES

Expose YOUR TRUTH

During this exploration phase we spend time together playing, connecting with your essence, evoking your desires, and feeling into the vision for your re-design.

This is where the magic starts, as we call upon the muses and delve into the particles of creative potential.

Querying, exploring, adventuring into the realms of your self and your potent magic.

Creating a powerful container for your transformation.

Here we form a clear vision of your future self, drawing it into the now, and defining the specifics of what design elements will most support your business.

Capture

YOUR POTENT BEAUTY

The influence of observation intensifies the process of manifestation. I am honoured to bear witness to your magnificence and your raw essence.

In this phase, we harness the dynamic vision we generated in phase one, and start to bring it to life through the power of words and art, igniting the fire of creative force.

This is the design phase when your unique visuals will start to come to life in alignment with our earlier explorations.

Reveal

YOUR UNIQUE IDENTITY

This is where the birthing takes place, the specific design of your unique visuals, born of your newly uncovered true self, painted in the colours of your very essence.

Here, we finalise all the design aspects and resources need to deliver yourself to the world, to your clients, in the light of your glorious self.

Breathing your dreams into life

“Lynda is a talented and creative artist that gets it!
I feel so blessed. I highly recommend her.”
